J. Edgar Hoover, The Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Peace Committee of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends (Quakers) recently received xeroxed copies of a number of documents allegedly found in the files of the Media office of the FBI. They consisted mainly of items sent by mail to private citizens who have not to our knowledge or theirs been charged with any crime.

We are surprised to find that the FBI or any other organization, Federal or otherwise, feels free to tamper with the U. S. Mail, in view of the Fourth Amendment of the U. S. Constitution, which mentions that "the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated."

Since the material which we received was primarily widely and openly circulated periodicals, you may find it burdensome to your budget to gather and file it in this fashion. We would be happy to put the name of one of your agents on our mailing list, thus freeing your agents to pursue their duties more in accord with the spirit of the U. S. Constitution.

Aside from the matters arising from the papers that were sent to us from Media, we feel that FBI use of informers, as described in press reports, are disturbingly close to the methods used in Nazi Germany and in Stalin's Russia. Unknown informers are not responsible persons. Their testimony bought by money or blackmail may lead to harassment of the innocent. Suspicion of informers' presences on campuses or in churches limits freedom of thought and of religion. The use of secret informers is repugnant to any idea of the proper exercise of police power in a democratic state.

We regret that the FBI, which could be of real service to the nation by supporting its principles and protecting its citizens, appears to have gone off on a kind of empire-building witch hunt. We shall welcome signs of its reorganization along lines more in keeping with the functions we believe were intended at its inception.

SI-113

Sincerely,

F. Miles Day
F. Miles Day, Chairman
By direction of the Executive Committee

Result of examination:

It was determined that the typewriter impressions on K4497, K4498 and K4502 were not prepared with the questioned typewriters used to prepare the specimens previously submitted in this case. al

Some of the typewriter impressions on the carbon paper, K4505 through K4511 are Royal elite style of type, which was also used to prepare Q185, previously submitted. However, due to the overtyping and lack of clarity in the carbon paper impressions, it could not be determined whether one typewriter was used in the preparation of all specimens. al

It was determined that the submitted plain paper containing the U. S. Government watermark and the plain envelopes submitted were not used on specimens previously submitted in this case. al

The hand printing, K4503 and K4504, is not sufficiently comparable with the hand printing on Q48 and Q49, or the questioned material in the EASTCON case for meaningful comparisons to be made. al

The submitted evidence will be returned separately.
Appropriate photographs have been made. al

From: The Citizens' Commission to Investigate the FBI

Subject: Public appearance by members of The Citizens' Commission to Investigate the FBI, St. Stephen & The Incarnation Church, 16th and Newton, N.W.; 7:00 p.m., Thursday, April 29, 1971

On Tuesday, April 27th, the following message was telegraphed to the co-ordinators of The Peoples' Coalition For Peace and Justice in Washington, D.C.:

REQUEST CONSENT FOR MEMBERS OF THE CITIZENS' COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE FBI TO APPEAR AT YOUR PEOPLES' LOBBY MEETING, THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 29, TO REPORT ON INFORMATION REVEALED THROUGH STUDY OF FILES REMOVED FROM MEDIA OFFICE MARCH 8, 1971. POST LARGE "YES" OR "NO" RESPONSE IN NINTH FLOOR MIDDLE WINDOW ON VERMONT AVENUE SIDE OF BUILDING BEFORE 9:00 AM, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28. IF "YES" WILL CONTACT LATER FOR SECURITY AND POSSIBLE SANCTUARY ARRANGEMENTS.

THE CITIZENS' COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE FBI

Their affirmative response of consent was conveyed, as requested, this morning. Therefore, we invite your coverage of tomorrow's meeting at which time some members of The Citizens' Commission to Investigate the FBI will publicly take responsibility for the removal of files from the FBI office in Media, Pennsylvania on March 8, 1971.

We were prompted to make this public appearance after learning of the remarks made Friday by Attorney General John Mitchell on the danger to national security posed by "domestic subversives." We agree with John Mitchell that the right of the public to protect itself is "implicit in the Constitution's very existence," but we believe that right is best upheld when citizens can scrutinize and control their own government and its agencies.

Because we believe the FBI has betrayed its democratic trust, we wish to present evidence for this claim to the open and public judgement of our fellow citizens.

We also wish to reiterate two other reasons for our action on March 8th:

-- our belief that a law and order which depends on intimidation and repression to secure obedience can have but one name: tyranny,

-- our belief that democracy can survive only in an order of justice, of an open society and public trust.

Our initial report tomorrow will cite some examples of the nature and extent of surveillance carried on by the FBI, particularly against groups like The Peoples' Coalition For Peace and Justice and others who have come to Washington this week to dramatize their demands for an end to the war, and for the necessity of a more just, humane and peaceful society.

We will again, tomorrow, invite others to join us in building such a society that does not wage nor threaten war, which distributes human and material resources fairly, and which operates on the basis of justice rather than fear.

We will also report on the activities of other members of The Citizens' Commission to Investigate the FBI who are taking it upon themselves to investigate the extent of illegal practices carried on by the 59 field offices of the FBI. Practices such as eavesdropping, entrapment, and the use of provocateurs and informers.

Re PH airtel to AL, 4/25/71.

Referenced airtel instructed various offices to submit to the Laboratory printed flyers put out by subjects when they surfaced in draft board break-in cases, as well as other printed materials put out by the perpetrators in such cases.

A review of Indianapolis files reflects that Indianapolis file 25-20777 (Bureau file 25-603391) contained such material.

By airtels dated 11/10/69 and 12/5/69, Indianapolis submitted all pertinent typed flyers and pertinent literature in the matter entitled, "UNSUBS, aka. "Beaver 55", ET AL, SSA; DGP"

By return letters dated 11/26/69 and 12/5/69, the Laboratory advised that typewriter comparisons were made and that photos of materials submitted by Indianapolis were retained.

The FBI Laboratory is requested to compare pertinent items submitted by Indianapolis in Bureau file 25-603391, with documents submitted in MEDBURG case to determine whether typewriters used are same.

The Bureau is requested to compare items submitted and photographed by the Laboratory for comparison to items in MEDBURG for any similarity of composition.

Re PH airtel to Albany, 4/25/71 (IO).

Enc. for the Lab is a copy of a leaflet beginning
"On Sept. 25, 1969, the files of the five local draft boards..."
and a photo of a letter signed "Buckeye 54".

On 10/1/69, a group of between 15 and 20 persons entered St. Johns Cathedral, CV, Ohio, and began a sit-in in the sanctuary of the church. This group appeared to be led by Fathers [redacted] suspended Catholic priests who were subsequently convicted for disturbances in the offices of Dow Chemical Company, Washington, D.C. Two spokesmen of the group identified as [redacted] and [redacted] both now serving prison sentences for destruction of records of Selective Service System (SSS) in Silver Spring, Md., disseminated a written statement referring to a fire at the SSS Boards in Akron, Ohio, on 9/26/69 (Bufile 25-600696). A copy of the statement is enc. with this communication, however, it is noted it is a poor copy.

The FBI previously conducted an examination of this statement (Lab #D7003270).

During the crime scene search conducted after the burning of LB #63, SSS, Norwalk, Ohio, on 1/27/70, a one-page typewritten letter critical of the draft reform lottery and signed "Buckeye 54" was recovered. It was apparently left

The FBI Lab is requested to compare the enc. documents with evidence submitted in the MEDBURG case to determine whether same typewriters were used in the preparation of these documents. The FBI Lab is also requested to compare enc. items with items submitted in MEDBURG case for similarity in style and composition. AL

Enclosed for the Laboratory is a duplicate copy of a repair invoice #12360 from Facit Office Machine Company, 210 North 16th Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Also enclosed is a sample of typing taken from an Olympia portable located at a residence occupied by [redacted] and [redacted].

For information of the Laboratory invoice #12360 was prepared for repairs made on a Facit electric typewriter located at the Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors, 2016 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. The typing under "terms" and the figures under "amount" are believed typed at the Facit office. The remaining was typed on the machine which was repaired.

Laboratory is requested to compare the sample of typing on the invoice with all examples of Ransmayer and Rodrian type identified on questioned documents submitted for examination to determine if any are identical.

The Laboratory is requested to compare the sample from the Olympia portable to typewriting on questioned documents to determine if any are identical to the Olympia machine.

This is to record a conversation with SAC Roy K. Moore, on special assignment in Philadelphia, concerning our continuing examination of staples in recovered Medburg documents and comparison with staples from known sources being submitted by numerous field offices.

At the present time we have received for examination over 100 questioned staples which we have been able to place into 22 separate groups based upon the style of the staple and/or toolmarks on the staples imparted by the stapling machine. We have received over 4600 staples from 11 different field offices accumulated during the project of obtaining known Xerox samples. These stapled documents are of known origin and the toolmarks on the staples are being compared with the questioned staples. This is a voluminous, tedious and time-consuming series of examinations. Approximately 300 of the known staples have been compared and eliminated so far. I discussed with SAC Moore the possibility that certain of the staples of known origin are more likely than others, and it would be helpful if Philadelphia could group the known staples by priority so that first attention could be given to those staples most likely to be significant. He stated this was most feasible and attention would be given to the matter. I also pointed out to SAC Moore that it seems not unlikely that some of the "known" staples may have been placed in the documents in the field office, resident agency or some other logical place with a non-suspect or non-pertinent stapling machine simply as a matter of collecting the known Xerox samples. If the Field could identify for us any such staples that are not significant this would be most helpful. SAC Moore stated he regarded the staple examinations as being most important and holding a great deal of potential, and volunteered he would immediately contact auxiliary offices by teletype and instruct they clarify this question regarding the staples. It was suggested to him that the inquiry be restricted to personal knowledge of the Agents who had collected these known specimens and that no specific inquiry be made of Xerox company representatives. He concurred in this observation.

The Laboratory is affording continuous and expedite attention to the Xerox copying and stapling examination.

For the information of receiving offices, the FBI Laboratory currently is in possession of 4600 staples received in connection with MEDBURG submissions. The vast majority of these submissions represent stapled specimens obtained from Xerox 660 machines. The transmitted communications do not indicate the possible productivity of staple examination since it is not known whether the staples were affixed at the location where the specimens were obtained, or at the office of the person obtaining them, whether that be the xerox representative or FBI Agent.

Because of this, the Laboratory has been directed to discontinue examination of the staples on the specimens obtained from Xerox 660 machines. In the event offices receiving this communication have submitted xerox specimens from highly suspect locations or will be making such submissions in the future, the Laboratory will examine the staples if specifically requested. These requests should be selective, however, limited to items believed to have real potential. u

The Laboratory, through examination of toolmarks or staples, can identify the type of staple used and the stapler. It is therefore desirable that stapled specimens from suspect individuals and organizations be obtained for comparison purposes with the staples obtained from recovered packets of reproduced FBI documents. The Laboratory has requested that offices recovering stolen items not disturb the packets. This information should be brought to the attention of agents involved in the investigation of this case. u

On 4/29/71 [redacted] a civilian employee, Johnsville Naval Air Station, Willow Grove, Pa., furnished a number of copies of a press release previously distributed by the "Citizens' Commission to Investigate the FBI." These copies were found in a trash container in a municipal parking lot, Bryn Mawr, Pa. SAs [redacted] and [redacted] recovered these items from [redacted] and from the trash basket. Every effort was made to handle the evidence in such a way that the agents' fingerprints were not left on the copies; however, [redacted] did handle some of the copies of the press release and his fingerprints are undoubtedly on them.

Intensive investigation at Boston has strongly indicated that stolen FBI documents are possibly being sent to "Resist" Headquarters, Cambridge, Massachusetts, from the Baltimore area. Inasmuch as eight original stolen documents have been returned to the FBI, the possibility exists that unknown subjects still have original stolen documents stashed away. Baltimore being instructed to fully intensify their efforts to identify and locate area where documents might be hidden. al

As previously reported, our Boston, Office has developed information indicating that Resist, Inc., an anti-Vietnam War organization in Cambridge, Massachusetts, which has served as an intermediary in distributing Xerox copies of stolen FBI documents has completed its fifth mailing. Through Boston sources we have been successful in obtaining copies of the documents transmitted in each of the five packets. In addition, Philadelphia has obtained a copy of the Resist Steering Committee meeting of 4/25/71. This document is being reviewed in order to determine its value.

Resist accompanies each of its mailings with an announcement indicating that Xerox copies of the stolen FBI documents were received by Resist anonymously, implying it has no knowledge as to the individuals responsible for their theft. No information has been developed thus far indicating Resist has actually received originals of stolen FBI documents and there has been no report of Resist mailing an original FBI document to any of the individuals on its mailing list.

Discussion was had 5/7/71, with Deputy Assistant Attorney General, Internal Security Division, [redacted] with respect to Resist. [redacted] indicated that at this point it would appear little could be gained by issuing a search warrant for Resist's premises except as a harassing tactic since there is no indication original FBI documents would be found on the premises. According to [redacted] since the Boston Office apparently has effective coverage on Resist through live sources and legal trash covers, the execution of a search warrant at this time could hinder FBI investigative activity. Boston and Philadelphia concur in this judgement.

[redacted] advised that Departmental Attorneys handling Medburg were likewise involved in the Capitol Bombing case (Capbom) and have been tied up in Seattle, Washington, during the past ten days. He indicated, however, an immediate review would be made of the Medburg situation particularly as it pertains to Resist, Inc., in order to determine the feasibility of subpoenaing [redacted] to appear before a Federal Grand Jury in an attempt to [redacted]

GENERAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION

In summary of current developments re investigation of burglary of Media RA definite tie ins are being developed with subjects who appear responsible for series of Selective Service breakins, Philadelphia, during February and May, 1970: Same individuals possible under leadership of John Peter Grady whose whereabouts is still unknown, are prime MEDBURG suspects. Analysis and comparison of all documents from Selective Service breakins, EASTCON and MEDBURG being conducted by FBI Laboratory. Sheet of paper found in Grady's car, February, 1970, has handprinting characteristics comparable to handprinting on envelopes which transmitted copies of stolen FBI documents to Senator McGovern and the "LA Times." Q225 Two hundred seventeen miscellaneous documents and (MEDBURG) physical evidence submitted in the [REDACTED]
case for comparison with the MEDBURG and EASTCON cases u

Result of examination:

Due to the lack of sufficiently comparable hand printing, it could not be determined whether any of the questioned material in the MEDBURG or EASTCON cases did or did not originate from the same source or sources as the material submitted and designated Q225 in the MEDBURG case. However, item number 94, which is a part of Q225, is a copy of the "Underground Press Syndicate" that contains hand printing. This hand printing has some characteristics in common with the questioned hand printing on Q48 and Q49 in the MEDBURG case, which suggest the desirability of obtaining additional hand printing from the writer of this material for further comparison. The submitted typewriter impressions were not associated with the questioned typewriters in MEDBURG. u

The submitted evidence will be returned separately.
A photograph of the "Underground Press Syndicate" copy, of item number 94, of Q225 is retained. u

For information of receiving offices in connection with investigation of MEDBURG, the following summary of this demonstration and subsequent investigation, as pertains to MEDBURG, is set forth.

On 4/9/71, (Good Friday), a demonstration was held in Washington, D. C. (WDC), by a group calling themselves "The Tribe of Ezekiel". The demonstration consisted of a meeting at Lafayette Park across from the White House and subsequent march to the Department of Justice. W

After the marchers arrived at the Justice Building, at about 1:45 p.m., Reverend PHILIP EUGENE WHEATON, Clergyman, Church of the Pilgrims, 2201 P Street, N.W., gave a speech. During the speech, Xerox copies of a memo of SA dated 6/17/70, regarding "National Association of Black Students Convention", were passed out to persons in the crowd, estimated at about 250 persons. b6

WHEATON stated something to the effect of the following: W

"There are those among you who will now pass out a document from an FBI Office which were received anonymously by us in the same fashion as they were received by the newspapers and various Government officials throughout the country. This document illustrates the FBI's use of black people spying on each other. We would like you to read it and we will cooperate by returning the documents back to the Justice Department just as others have done. Now all of you who have received the document, hold them up and we will collect them and return them to the Department of Justice." W

WFO 52-12554

Approximately two hundred copies of the memo were passed out and most returned, with the exception of a few obtained by WFO Agents. These copies were submitted to the FBI Laboratory. No copies of other serials passed out. AK

Review of photographs and movie film shot at the demonstration by WFO Agents revealed three white males passing out the Xerox copies. Two of them subsequently identified as [redacted] born [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted] who state they are co-directors of the Catholic Peace Fellowship (CPF), 3619 12th Street, N.E., WDC. WASH DC Third male not identified; however, [redacted] stated in interview that three persons passed out the documents, himself, [redacted] white female, born [redacted] Unidentified male apparently obtained copies from one of these three and made subsequent distribution. AK

[redacted] stated he, [redacted] received the copies from [redacted] at a meeting at the Church of the Pilgrims during morning of 4/9/71, prior to demonstration. [redacted] stated he obtained a Xerox copy of the serial anonymously in the mail about 4/1/71 (he believed envelope was postmarked Harrisburg, Pennsylvania), and, subsequently, had 100 copies run off at commercial copier and gave them to [redacted] AK

Commercial copier identified, samples obtained and submitted to Laboratory for comparison with Xerox specimens previously submitted MEDBURG, with negative results. AK

[redacted] interviewed with negative results. AK

WFO 52-12554

Permit for demonstration was obtained by [redacted] EASTCON subject, who listed demonstration as being by The Tribe of Ezekiel, 233 8th Street, N.E., WDC, and sponsored by [redacted] Eighth Street address is a "collective" inhabited by various EASTCON and MEDBURG suspects. ✓

On 4/23/71, [redacted] familiar with 8th Street "collective" occupants, was interviewed re EASTCON and MEDBURG and advised she was at a meeting at the Church of the Pilgrims held by [redacted] on date believed by WFO Agents to be 3/28/71. She stated about 23 persons at the meeting, at which time she brought up the idea of passing out Media documents. She stated, though, that she did not know that they could actually be obtained, did not see the Xerox copies until Good Friday, and has no idea as to where they were obtained.

WFO continuing investigation to identify persons 3/28/71, meeting and interview regarding matter in effort to determine how original Xerox copy obtained by above persons.

Staff Report

[redacted] left RESIST on January 1 to work full-time with his collective. [redacted] announced that she will leave for California about February 1. [redacted] said she will leave about April 1 either to go to Cuba or to work at the New England Free Press. It was announced that [redacted] has been hired as a full-time staff member. u

Finance Report

RESIST has a current balance of $2465.40 and anticipated encumbrances of $4540.00. [redacted] recommended that we grant no more than $1000. u

Washington's Birthday Conspiracy

A factual discussion of the recent indictments was held. The Harrisburg Grand Jury went into session between December 14-18 and now, after naming six defendants and seven co-conspirators (including [redacted]), is calling witnesses in a "fishing expedition" similar to the Grand Jury hearing in Tucson, Ariz. The alleged conspirators will not meet until they are arraigned in February, and it is possible that more indictments, either on the bombing and kidnapping charges, or on draft board actions, will be issued. The next crisis is expected to be the failing, for refusal to testify, of Sister [redacted] and possibly of other witnesses. u

At this time there is no national defense office but committees are being organized in many cities, including New York, Boston, Baltimore, and Harrisburg and Philadelphia. The defendants reportedly believe that it is important not to focus all attention on the indictments, or on the guilt or innocence of the defendants, but on the spring program against the war, the draft, racism and repression. It is expected that the defense will be straight, with every little government tactic being fought militantly. u

We agreed to make the RESIST mailing list available for a national fund-raising appeal, and to break the national list down for use by local defense committees. We also will provide local committees with lists of groups and key contacts. In addition, we will prepare a data sheet on all draft board actions. u

Inter Advertising

An ad was placed in the late January New York Review of Books, but it was felt that before advertising was placed in other magazines that the copy must be updated. (At this writing most of the returns have come in and the ad will not come close to paying for itself. We have received $228 and four pledges for $41 a month. A follow-up mailing will be done to all who returned the coupon.) u

It was agreed that we should not use the indictments to make money for ourselves, but that we could acknowledge our support of draft board and corporation actions. We also thought that the beginning and the end of the ad needed to be updated, and that, if possible, it should be shortened. It was also agreed to add the names of steering committee members to the ad. u

Civil Liberties Legal Defense Fund Report

[] reported that CLLDF is now taking fewer legal cases and funding more projects. He listed some of the areas in which the group is working, and a discussion was held on some of the problems which have been encountered. u

Enclosed for Philadelphia are two (2) photographs depicting individuals demonstrating at the U. S. Post Office, Rochester, N. Y., 3/24/71 (Buffalo file 100-20258). al

The aforementioned enclosures are being furnished Philadelphia inasmuch as during a review of Buffalo demonstration photographs by SA [redacted] it was determined that the female in said photographs bears an extremely close resemblance to the composite sketch of the female who visited the Media Resident Agency shortly before it was burglarized. It is further noted that she also closely resembles [redacted] who was selected by Media Agents as having similar physical appearance to the Unsub female who apparently cased the Media RA. al

[redacted]'s best friend is [redacted]. She also frequently stays with [redacted] and [redacted]. al

[redacted] is a very close associate of [redacted] and [redacted] who were convicted of Federal violations emanating from their ransacking of the Rochester RA on 9/6/70. [redacted] once resided with [redacted] at 41 Westminister where the Religious Society of Friends Meeting House is located. al

Referenced communication requested receiving office review the news release circulated by the Citizens Commission to investigation the FBI and furnish the Philadelphia Division the analysis of this review. an

Due to the innumerable number of leaflets and pamphlets, as well as articles appearing in underground newspapers and other available sources, it was not possible to locate any identifiable article which would be considered identical with the news release, either as to form or phraseology. an

A review of the news release would indicate the release was formulated by an individual or individuals with some degree of educational background due to the use of such phraseology as "war profiteering;" "monopolistic practices;" "institutional racism;" and the phrase "such as eavesdropping entrapment, and the use of provocateurs and informers!" an

It appears the last paragraph of the news release may have possibly been added subsequent to the majority of the release since the typing of the last paragraph appears to be a lighter type and since

The FBI Story

We learned to despise informers recruited by government, when those governments were "fascist" or "communist." We were revolted by tales of youngsters spying on their elders, of phones tapped, mail intercepted, knocks on the door (no warrants), wholesale secret surveillance, police dossiers of allegations about suspected "subversives." We called it a police state.

The evening of March 8, 1971 (the night of the Ali-Frazier fight) an anonymous group calling itself the Citizens' Commission to Investigate the FBI removed documents from the Media, Pennsylvania FBI offices — more than a thousand according to the Justice Department, though how many more than a thousand we are not told. (The agent who ran the office will shortly take up residence in Atlanta, Georgia, after his 30 days suspension without pay.) Copies were distributed. The Boston Globe and The Washington Post, to whom they had been sent, selectively published or paraphrased the documents, generally leaving out names and other identifying material. Attorney General Mitchell appealed to the press (though he didn't attempt to get an injunction) not to publish what they had received — in the interests of internal and national security and for the protection of agents and informants. The Justice Department said that this selection from the files gave a misleading account of the FBI's work and served only to discredit the Bureau. For example, it claimed that a report on a Philadelphia-area college professor was simply part of the FBI's general efforts to apprehend two women involved in a Boston bank holdup in which a policeman was killed.

Six of the documents are about black groups. In one instance, J. Edgar Hoover ordered "discreet, preliminary inquiries" (beginning November 4, 1970) into "all BSUs (Black Student Unions) and similar organizations organized to project the demands of black students, which are not presently under investigation." (italics added) Since BSUs "and similar groups . . . are targets for influence and control by violence-prone Black Panther (BPP) and other extremists," the directive continued, the "increased campus disorders involving black students pose a definite threat to the Nation's stability and security." Mr. Hoover could not "overemphasize the importance of expeditious, thorough, and discreet handling of these cases. The violence, destruction, confrontations, and disruptions on campuses make it mandatory that we utilize to its capacity our intelligence-gathering capabilities. Agents were instructed to gather up everything they could and within the month "determine the size, aims, purposes, activities, leadership, key activists, and extremist interest or influence in these groups," all this to be done "carefully . . . [so] as to avoid criticism." The surveillance would cover "junior colleges and two-year colleges as well as four-year colleges."

The National Black Economic Conference is the subject of an earlier memo. Talks with the cashier and head of the computer center of the bank at which the NBEC kept a checking account are recorded. Through them, the FBI got microfilm copies of checks drawn on the account and copies of the NBEC's bank statements. The informer apologized that their computer system couldn't give "the nature and source of deposits and credits to this account." Bell Telephone handed over the names of the subscribers to the NBEC's phones. Brief summaries of several days of phone tapping were included.

Two other memos (one from "a source who has furnished reliable information in the past") describe meetings of black community and church groups (with the names listed of all who attended except for "three or four unidentified people") and routine organizational discussions. (Mr. X "will be Chairman . . . as this is the best way to have his name before the public.") A local chief of police reports on conversations held between local college officials, the state police, and the Bureau concerning student violence that might follow the presentation of nonnegotiable demands by the college's Afro Students' Society. Since it was thought that the students would "take whatever steps they feel necessary," full police arrangements were being snapped in place to put down the revolution whenever it came. The names of all the members of the society were freely given to the Bureau.

Then there is a call for "all agents" (in this case 185) to prepare for the first convention of NABS (National Association of Black Students) by having "logical [i.e., black] informants . . . locate NABS chapters and representatives" and by "having informants in a logical position to do so, attend the convention." Not only are agents instructed to find "logical informants" to deal with the "violence-prone" blacks, but "in view of current international situation and the Paris Peace talks" they must spy on pacifists — the Conference of War Resisters International at Haverford, Pa., in August 1969 — and "determine events connected with captioned conference." Fifteen agents ("be most discreet in handling the matter") are "through established sources only [to] make inquiry . . . to determine its scope and whether or not there are any indications it will generate any anti-US propaganda" and to make "efforts . . . to have informants and sources attend the conference."

When investigating travelers in Russia, agents must move warily, so that "the motives of the Bureau . . . not be construed as infringements of the American educational system and the pursuit of intellectual freedom." The assignment here is to keep watch on all "individuals who meet the criteria of student, professor, or scientist who visited the USSR for at least one month . . . [and] who have not previously been investigated." The purpose is to "ascertain if any attempts have been made by the Soviet Intelligence Services to recruit the individual for intelligence service either in the USSR or after his return to the United States." "The individual" is to be impressed with "the importance of immediately notifying the Bureau of any Soviet attempt to contact him."

Another travel document is a copy of a letter (dated November 4, 1970) sent by a professor of physics at a Western university to the Soviet Embassy inquiring how he and a group of explorer scouts he masters can travel about Russia freely, camping, filming, and meeting their "counterparts." Does the FBI intercept domestic mail on its way to the Russian Embassy, or does it have its own man inside feeding the good things out? Is the letter written in English not because "I don't have a Russian typewriter," but because not every FBI office can read Russian? Or are we to understand that the scoutmaster is offering his trip, his troop, and their cameras to the FBI? Or is he already an agent, having gotten his troop together for some clandestine purpose? Finally, why does Media, Pa., worry about this matter?

Two further documents offer quite full accounts of investigations carried out on the Philadelphia-area college professor to whom we referred earlier, and on a San Francisco-area college student who had been tagged by WF 1577-S in the East as "an inveterate Marxist revolutionist," "far out," a person who "should be watched." So she is watched. We learn where she lives, with whom, her major (Greek), that she has not been in trouble with the local or campus police, that she attended a meeting of the Venceremos Brigade in Oakland the summer of 1970, that her application to the Fourth Contingent of the Brigade was turned down; that she is completely unknown to "SF 3427-PSI, who is familiar with radical activities in the East Bay Area," and that "SF 7731-S (reliable - protect)," who spoke with her at the meeting of the Brigade (during which "there was no discussion of violence or revolution"), puts her down as one of your "average liberal minded students that are common in the . . . area." So the San Francisco office "is not submitting a summary report at this time" and the "subject is not being recommended for inclusion on the Security Index" — until such time as WF 1577-S can be precise about why he thinks her "far out." The college professor is a more serious matter. He was being staked out because of the possibility that the two women involved in Boston's joint radical/ex-con bank robbery/cop killing might end up on his doorstep, per reliable Boston informant. So the FBI got in touch with his college's security officer, who gave a brief rundown on the professor and his family (and got it wrong, wrong number of children, wrong number of cars). A neighbor noted that "numerous college students visit [the professor's house] frequently" and promises to "remain alert in his neighborhood for the possible appearance" of the subjects. The chief switchboard operator at the college ("conceal identity due to position at school") volunteered that the professor "is generally regarded as 'radical'" for inviting controversial speakers [Panthers] to the campus without clearing this with others, for conducting open discussions on controversial topics without clearing it with the school administration. She reported that he had not made a long distance call in the last month but that from now on she will "confidentially furnish pertinent information regarding any long distance telephone calls made or received" and "remain alert for any information concerning" the subjects. The local chief of police, we learn, lives only "two houses away," so "he can observe the [professor's] residence from the front of his house." The Chief's only contact with subject has been to break up a rock festival held last summer in the professor's back yard, but his well-situated house allows him to know that the professor's "garage . . . has been converted into a printing shop . . . hous[ing] enough equipment to publish a newspaper"; "he does not know that a newspaper is published there, but he is keeping a close eye on the garage to ascertain what activity takes place there"; "a leaflet was printed there several months ago" calling "for support for [Panthers] scheduled for trial in 1970"; "hippie types" frequent the garage." The Chief ends with a promise to "remain especially alert for the appearance of the subjects." The local postmaster and through him the letter carrier promise to "remain alert to any mail to or from the [professor's] residence which might be significant in this case." A pretty good day's work for the FBI, though its pertinence to the bank robbery might be questioned.

Finally, as if not busied enough by all the New Left events it must cover, the FBI held its own New Left conference and in Media, Pennsylvania, at least, got into publishing its own New Left Notes (Edition #1, September 16, 1970), to "be produced at irregular intervals as needed to keep those persons dealing with New Left problems up to date in an informal way." Much activity: "The Director has okayed PSI's and SI's [Paid Student Informants and Student Informants, though the Justice Department has denied this without revealing its equivalent translation] age 18 to 21. We have been blocked from this critical age group in the past. Let us take advantage of this opportunity." It is easier, we are told, to pay a PSI less than "$300 in a lump sum or per month" than more because it can be handled at a lower echelon. A "pretty general consensus" is reported, "that more interviews with these subjects and hangers-on are in order for plenty of reasons, chief of which are it will enhance the paranoia endemic in these [New Left] circles and will further serve to get the point across there is an FBI Agent behind every mailbox. In addition, some will be overcome by the overwhelming personalities of the contacting agent and volunteer to tell all - perhaps on a continuing basis."

This is the all-American FBI story, with friends and neighbors willing, eager, to play bit roles (perhaps it's those overwhelming personalities). After the Bureau breezed through one Philadelphia-area college town of a winter's day it had its newly found allies watching the "radical" professor's house, reading his mail, monitoring his long distance phone calls. Some do it for money. Others for reflected glory. Meanwhile the Citizens Commission to Investigate the FBI states that it will shortly "contact a first group of these previously undercover agents and suggest they cease their repressive actions if they have not already done so. . . . We will then inform those individuals and organizations against whom these agents were operating. . . . Following that, we will make the names of the first group of agents public." Perhaps the Commission could also find out for us what the FBI was up to when it sent one of its agents last October to flash his credentials before Mrs. George Clarke of Hampton, Virginia, and warn this mother of a prisoner in Vietnam not to try and seek information about her son through the Committee of Liaison, a peace group Hanoi has used to relay news of POWs.

Not all police investigations can be made in broad daylight. Where there is plausible evidence of crime committed or intended (as in kidnapping cases, to take the most obvious example), suspects have to be followed and evidence gathered to support or refute suspicion. But when there's an ossified police bureaucracy run by an autocrat, when the cop at the top can't draw and walk the fine line between getting information a government needs in order to govern wisely, and getting it for Big Brother, he ought to be fired by the President. Hoover should go. Pending that unlikely Presidential dismissal, however, Senator Sam Ervin's subcommittee on Constitutional Rights ought to pursue its investigation into how the FBI collects its information, why, and what it does with it. It ought to study these thousand or so FBI documents, and others, for whatever light they shed on the state of our liberties and our rights to privacy, and it should ask how it is that an agency astute enough to keep close tabs on some professor's mail and long distance calls can't even guard its own files.

Another Dem Wants Probe Of the G-Men

Washington, April 20 (News Bureau)—Rep. Henry S. Reuss (D-Wis.) joined several other Democratic lawmakers in calling for a congressional investigation of the FBI today after an unsuccessful attempt to get the bureau to let him see the files that agents had compiled on his 21-year-old daughter, Jacqueline.

At the same time, House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs (La.), who promised to detail his charge, made in a House speech Thursday, that the FBI has tapped congressional telephones, reportedly will include a complaint that agents last year obtained records of his long distance calls, and checked out some of them.

Asked to See Files

Reuss called FBI Inspector David Bowers into his office yesterday and asked him to hand over the files that the bureau had collected on his daughter, a senior at Swarthmore College, near Philadelphia. But Reuss said he couldn't even get Bowers to show him a copy of a document on his daughter that was among those stolen from an FBI office at Media, Pa., on March 8.

An outfit calling itself the Citizens Commission to Investigate the FBI has claimed responsibility for burglarizing the media office and has been sending copies of stolen documents to newspapers and to some public officials.

"There was a story that our office was to be sent a copy of that report," a Reuss aide said. "But we've never seen it. That's why the congressman thought he ought to at least be shown a copy of what was stolen."

Reuss said he asked for the meeting with Bowers because of what the inspector told him about the file on his daughter in three previous meetings—that they were "neutral in nature" and contained "nothing derogatory whatsoever"—contradicted what the congressman had learned about the stolen documents. Reuss did not state.

Indicted on Bribery Charges

Besides the alleged FBI check on his long-distance phone calls, Boggs also is expected to refer to the fact that the FBI agents monitored calls to Rep. John Dowdy (D-Tex.), later indicted on bribery charges.

This was officially disclosed last week by order of U.S. District Court Judge Roszell Thompson of Baltimore. In this instance, the agents monitored calls to Dowdy, but from the other end and with the permission of the caller.

Commenting on the controversy today, House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford (Mich.) said he did not feel that the FBI had engaged in improper surveillance in the Dowdy case.

Noting that it was a criminal investigation, Ford said, "I am not sure we should differentiate between the citizen and a member of Congress," adding that the activity had been authorized by court order.

Bowers handled this excellently.
